Day time experience

Location: Elefantastic Sanctuary, Amer, Jaipur

Meeting and introduction

The first contact is always important! When meeting an Asian elephant for the first time, you have to let them catch your smell. Make them feel comfortable by stroking and talking to them while looking into their eyes.

Feeding the elephant

You might have heard of the saying, 'a way to anyone's heart is through the stomach'. Well, elephants are no exception. Feeding is the easiest way to gain their trust. You will get a chance to feed them while learning their feeding habits and what they enjoy eating the most.

Painting on elephant

Learn about the completely natural paint used to paint the thick elephant skin. If you're not great at drawing, don't worry! We can paint the outlines on their face if you like, and you fill in the gaps with the colors of your choice. As for painting them, we use organic stone colors that are safe and do no harm. This is an optional activity, so if you are uncomfortable, you can choose to skip this.

Walk with the elephants in the village

Instead of elephant rides, we promote an alternative experience at Elefantastic, where guests get to walk with our elephants in our town. This initiative will hopefully set the precedence to raise awareness towards elephant welfare.

Elephant washing and shower

In the late afternoon, we wash and scrub our elephants. As per the Forest Department of India guidelines, we cannot let you in the Lake with elephants for safety purposes. So instead, you wash and scrub them at the sanctuary. During the shower, the elephants joyfully spray water from their trunks, making it a fun and refreshing experience.

Home cooked vegetarian meal

A delicious home-cooked vegetarian meal awaits you at my home. You don't need to worry about hygiene and cleanliness; my mother cooks it herself and takes the utmost care when preparing food. This experience will also give you a chance to see a slice of real Indian hospitality.
